How does the program work?

The merchant fee program reduces the price of a product when customers pay with cash instead of cards. The payment terminal automatically assesses a fee while discounting that fee to customers who choose to pay in cash.

Staying compliant Pricing Notice Required

- When adding a small fee uniformly across all transactions, state and federal regulations are met.
- Clear pricing notification signage is required by law and Till provides compliant materials for you so you won't have to worry. Properly display the signage at entry and at the point-of-sale and you're good to go.
- Legal merchant fee programs require a receipt clearly displaying the fee.
